Paoli Introduces the Corinth Lounge Seating Collection

Available built to order with two week shipping

ORLEANS, IN, June 2009— Paoli introduces Corinth, offering a clean architectural look in fully upholstered club and lounge chairs, settees, and benches for offices, lobbies and reception areas.

According to Corinth designer Ken Reinhard, of Ken Reinhard Design Associates, the solid wood bases, in combination with the flare of the arms gives Corinth seating selections a light and airy contemporary feel. Corinth is available in Paoli's full range of upholstery and wood finish choices, and is included in Paoli's inTWO program, featuring a two-week shipping window.

Corinth seating is lighter in scale to function well in any size room, including the smaller interior environments found in today's offices. The Corinth club chair has outer dimensions of 27½" wide, 24½" deep and 31½" high, while the lounge chair is 31½" wide, 27" deep and 30½" high. The settee and double bench with arms measure 57½" wide, 27" deep and 30½" high. The Corinth Series variety empowers designers and specifiers to easily organize an entire public seating setting or waiting area with a family of synchronistic options.

About Paoli inTWO

Paoli's inTWO program provides five desk series and the complete offering of executive, task, guest, lounge and healthcare seating for two week shipment. Paoli dealers can specify any model of any series offered through inTWO, with options defined in the price lists, and the products will be built to order and shipped in two weeks. Upholstery choices for seating are generous, including leather, fabric, vinyl and choices from leading mills via Paoli's Graded In program.
